

Terms and Conditions

This site and the information, names, images, videos, pictures, logos regarding or relating to All Survivors Project (ASP) contained on it are presented without any endorsement and without warranty of any kind, whether express or implied. In no event will ASP be liable for any damages including, without limitation, indirect or consequential damages, any damages arising from the use or in connection with such use or loss of use of this site, whether in contract or in negligence.

ASP does not warrant that the functions contained in this site will be uninterrupted or error-free, that defects will be corrected, or that this site or the server that makes it available are free of viruses or bugs or represent the full functionality, accuracy and reliability of these materials.

You agree to use the website for lawful purposes and in a way that does not infringe the rights of, nor restrict or inhibit anyone else's use or enjoyment of the website.

You may view the content of the ASP website for any purpose. However, you may not copy, reproduce, republish, download, post, broadcast, transmit or otherwise use the content on the website in any way except for non-commercial, personal or educational use. You also agree not to adapt, alter or create a derivative work from any of the website content except for non-commercial, personal or educational use. Any other use of the website content, including resale or commercial distribution in any other manner, requires the prior written permission of the copyright holder.

If you are using any of the information on the ASP website in a permitted manner, you must make good faith efforts to preserve the context of the cited passage(s) and give appropriate credit to ASP or other authoring person(s) or organisation(s).

Names, images, videos and logos identifying products, publications or services of ASP or third parties on the website may be subject to copyright, design rights or trademark rights. Where this is the case, they may not be reproduced without the consent of the copyright or trademark owner. Nothing contained in these terms shall be construed as conferring any licence or right to use any trademark, design right or copyright of ASP or any other third party.

These Terms and Conditions shall be governed and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales. Disputes arising here shall be exclusively subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales.

If these Terms and Conditions are not accepted in full, your use of this site must be terminated immediately.
